BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

 A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.
 "BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Village and Picture, With the War Done is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Baree, his beloved Nepesse, daughter of the trapper, alone, wandered alone over the trails, through the forests, everywhere he might find food for himself. At length he encountered the game warden, led by McGart, the factor, and he was stopped systematically and tested on the way they yielded. McGart, taking his gun, and suspecting the near-by footprints were those of the dog, his old enemy, started also a search for Baree.

CHAPTER XXV.—Continued.

It was the fifth day that Bush McGart returned to the post. He was in an ugly mood. Only Valence and the four Frenchmen were there, and it Valence who heard his story, and afterward heard him cursing Marti. She came into the store a little later, big eyes and flushed, one of the little Hamling red, where McGart had struck her. While the storekeeper was getting her the canned salmon McGart wanted for his dinner, Valence found the opportunity to whisper softly to her ear:

"M'lord Lorne has trapped a silver fox," he said with low triumph. "He loves you, mon ami, and he will have a splendid catch by spring—and sends you this message from his cabin up on the Little Black Bear. Will you talk to him? He is ready to fly when the snow comes!"

Marti did not look at him, but she heard, and her eyes shone like the place where the post storekeeper gave her the salmon that he said to Valence, when she still counted "Blue Death," but she is still beautiful at times, Valence!

To which Valence nodded with an odd smile.

CHAPTER XXVI.

By the middle of January the war between Baree and Bush McGart had become more than an incident—more than a passing adventure to the best, and more than an exciting happening to the man. It was, for the time, the elemental reason d'être of their lives. Baree hung to the trap line. He haunted it like a devastating spectre, and each day that he snuffed the scent of the Factor from Lac Baie he was impressed still more strongly, with the instinct that he was avenging himself upon a deadly enemy. Again and again he outwitted McGart, but the cunning Factor was always a step ahead of him. The humor grew in him more strongly to destroy the far he came across; his greatest pleasure came to be not in eating, but in destroying. The fire of his

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mining, Ontario. "I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to suffering women. For three months I was almost dead, but I was able to sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. Many a time my husband carried me to bed. I could be so weak. Then he read in the paper of a woman suffering as I did, who got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so he went and got it for me. When I had taken three bottles I was just like a new woman and have had splendid health ever since. When I feel any beating-down, I always take it. Sometimes a half bottle or whatever I need. It is my only medicine and I have to know more about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I will gladly recommend it for I feel I owe my life and strength to it. I am Mrs. M. Bowman, R. R. 1, Mining, Ontario. Do you feel broken-down, nervous and weak sometimes? Do you have this horrible feeling of fear which sometimes comes to women when they are not well? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take at such a time. It always helps, even if taken regularly and persistently will relieve this condition."

W. N. O. 1614

heaved that in this he was sure of getting a shot at the dog. Again it was the man who was reasoning, and again it was the man who was defeated. The first day that McGart followed his new trail Baree also struck that trail. For a little while it puzzled him. Three times he cut back and forth between the old and the new trail. Then there was no doubt. The new trail was the fresh trail, and he followed in the footsteps of the Factor from Lac Baie. McGart did not know what was happening until his return trip, when he saw the story told in the snow. Baree had visited each trap, and without exception he had approached each time at the point of the inverted V. After a week of futile hunting, of lying in wait, of approaching at every point of the wind, a period during which McGart had twenty times cursed himself in fits of madness, another idea came to him. It was like an inspiration, and so simple that it seemed almost inconceivable that he had not thought of it before.

He hurried back to Post Lac Baie. The second day after he was on the trail at dawn. This time he carried a pack in which there were a dozen strong wolf traps, traps which began to beaver out, and a rabbit which he had snared the previous night. Now and then he looked anxiously at the sky. It was clear until late in the afternoon, when banks of dark clouds began rolling up from the east. Half an hour later a few flakes of snow began falling. McGart let one of these drop on the back of his mittened hand, and examined it closely. It was soft and downy, and he gave vent to his satisfaction. It was what he wanted. Before morning there would be six inches of freshly fallen snow covering the trails.

He stopped at the next trap-house, and quickly set to work. First he threw away the poisoned bait in the "house" and replaced it with the rabbit. Then he began setting his wolf traps. Three of these he placed close to the door of the house, through which Baree would have to reach for the bait. The remaining nine he scattered at intervals of a foot or sixteen inches apart, so that when he was done a veritable corridor of traps guarded the house. He fastened the chains, but let them lay loose in the snow. If Baree got into one trap he would get into others and there would be no use of logic. His work done, McGart hurried on through the blizzards, waiting of winter night to his shack. He was highly excited. This time there could be no such thing as failure. He had sprung every trap on his way from Lac Baie. In noway was he to be outwitted. He had anything to eat until he came to the "nest" of twelve wolf traps.

A PERFECT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets Should be in Every Home Where There Are Children

The perfect medicine for little ones is found in Baby's Own Tablets. They are a gentle but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, drive out constipation, induce sleep, break up colds and simple fevers and promote healthful refreshing sleep. It is impossible for Baby's Own Tablets to harm even the newborn babe, as they are absolutely guaranteed free from opium or any other harmful drug.

Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. Alex. Perry, Adams, N.S., writes: "I have always used Baby's Own Tablets in the house for the children, as I have found them a perfect medicine for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by Medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Truth lies at the bottom of the well, and angels never go there in flesh.

It was in January that McGart caught his first glimpse of Baree. He had placed his rifle against a tree, and was a dozen feet away from it at the time. It was as if Baree knew, and had come to stand by for when the Factor suddenly looked up Baree was standing out clear from the dwarf spruce not twenty yards away from him, his white fangs gleaming and his eyes burning like coals. For a space McGart stared, as if turned into stone. It was Baree. He recognized the white star, the white-tipped ear, and his heart thumped like a hammer in his breast. Very slowly he began to creep toward his rifle. His hand was reaching for it when like a flash Baree was gone.

This gave McGart his new idea. He blazed himself a fresh trail through the forests parallel with his trapping but at least five hundred yards distant from it. Whenever a trap or deadfall was set this new trail struck sharply in, like the point of a V, so that he could approach his line unobserved. By this strategy he be-

Invention Of Mail Carrier

French War Office Interested in Postier's Motorized Plane
 The French war department has taken up an invention of Ernest Dole, a rural mail carrier, who says he can build a motorized aeroplane which, by means of a system of turbines, can fly anywhere.

Dole contends he uses the resistance of the air as motive power, and, although he is not giving away all his secrets, his formula would appear to be aught most of the known laws of physics.

But it appears that the air experts of the government have decided to take a good look at the model, which the inventor says he has built and which flies handily, without fuel and without regard to wind currents.

The model which Dole says he has flown is described as six feet across. He says he is now preparing to build a man-carrying machine for the government.

Has Become Skilled Gardener

Personal Attendant to Late King Edward Landed Retired King in 1880, when Late King Edward was Prince of Wales, a young member of the Cambridge police force, Arthur Booty, was appointed special police officer in charge of the Jockey Club at Newmarket, and later he became the personal attendant of the Prince on the turf.

Today Mr. Booty leads a quiet life as a gardener in the little village of Rhiwbina, near Cardiff, and is well known to the thousands of city folk who flock to the village in the summer.

His has many good tales to tell of King Edward, and of Lord Marcus Beresford, who was trainer to the Prince of Wales in the eighties.

King Edward's generosity was well known to the rugged fraternity of the turf in the eighties, and beggars and tramps were always hanging round the Jockey Club in the hope of attracting his attention. They often received a gift of a sovereign.

At his home in Rhiwbina, the retired officer keeps a large number of royal mementoes. One that he especially prizes is a diamond tepee.

Mr. Booty is a gardener of more than ordinary skill, and was one of those who constructed the unique floral clock—one of the most beautiful floral works in the country—in Victoria Park, Swansea.

Planning Aerial Line To Lonely Prison

Russian Jail Is Situated on Island in White Sea

Russia will inaugurate an aerial service between the port of Kem and Solovetsky Island in the frozen White Sea for transporting political and other offenders against the Soviet state who have been exiled to Solovetsky monastery. Communication with the island has been carried on by sleds over the frozen ice or by boat when the ice has in the spring.

Situated in the middle of the frozen White Sea, the island is one of the loneliest places in the world and is the most dreaded prison in Soviet Russia.

From the fifteenth century it was used by the Czar as a place of banishment for ecclesiastical, political and secular dignitaries.

Observed the Rules

Tug Carrying Free State President Had to Fly Union Jack

President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State recently set out to repay a call to the commander of an American warship that visited Dublin. The only vessel available to take the president out to the warship was a tug, and it was pointed out to him that the tug would not be saluted by the American ship unless it flew the Union Jack, as it had been definitely laid down under the international code that the Sinn Féin flag cannot be recognized as a maritime flag. Mr. Cosgrave accordingly made the journey with an enormous Sinn Féin flag in the bows and a tiny Union Jack at the masthead.

RATEPAYERS HEAR DETAILS OF DISCREPANCIES

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Town of Blairmore and Blairmore School District No. 628, held in the Orpheum Theatre on Friday night last, was the largest attended of its kind in the town's history. The spacious building was crisscrossed by the doors and interest was so keen throughout that one could almost hear a pin fall.

The town meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Mr. A. J. Kelly, secretary-treasurer, who called for the appointment of a chairman, whereupon Mr. Peter Patterson was chosen to fill that office.

In assuming the chair, Mr. Patterson hoped that a fair hearing would be given each member of the council, also that persons who wished to speak should be given a fair opportunity. He regretted the absence of Mayor McLeod, but felt that all matters in which the ratepayers were most vitally interested would be sufficiently aired.

The chairman called for the reading of the financial statement, which was read by Mr. Gillis, as chairman of the finance committee of the council. Mr. Gillis enlarged on the figures given in the statement and commented upon the serious nature of the condition of some of the town books, particularly with reference to the sale of town lots which had been appropriated under the terms of the Tax Recovery Act. He related the circumstances which led up to the investigation now going on, and stated that as conditions have proven to be far more serious than at first anticipated, the council were determined to push this investigation and that those responsible would surely be brought to account. The figures at hand now were only available from an interim report submitted by Mr. Battrum for the benefit of this meeting, but there was sufficient reason to believe that the ultimate figure of the shortages would be greatly in excess of the $4200 reported now. There was a lack of records and alleged erasures and alterations of the accounts covering the last five years.

The report showed that the town should own in the neighborhood of five hundred lots, titles for which had been applied for in the regular manner, but owing to the absence of a tax-sale register, the record of sales made could not be definitely reported at this time. Investigations, however, covering 38 items, have disclosed irregularities in the transactions amounting to over $3300, which was only partial, and a complete statement would likely be available in a few days.

The following books and records were reported missing from the town office: cash books prior to January, 1922; general receipts prior to February, 1922; license and fee receipts prior to August, 1922; all vouchers from 1917 to 1921 with gaps in subsequent years; tax receipt duplicates from 1911 to 1914 inclusive; all of 1920, 1921 and 1922; all but one book of City receipts for 1925, and one book for 1924. The voucher record book and tax rolls were complete for some years back and enabled the auditor to obtain some data required, these books being too large and heavy to disappear without notice.

In 1923, in the month of July, the council passed a resolution to the effect that no sales were to be made without authority from the council, meaning that applications for purchase should be submitted to a regular meeting of the council for consideration, but only five of such applications are recorded in the minutes and the minute book is alleged to show erasures and alterations without authority. Tax rolls for 1922, 1923 and 1924 are said to contain numerous erasures and alterations. In many instances, tax arrears have been written off without the authority of the council and in other instances the amount of taxes charged against certain lots sold have been spread over other lots belonging to the town. Also, the council by resolution agreed that any lots taken over by the town might be sold at 25 per cent less assessed valuation. This order had evidently not been adhered to.

A list of prices of lots for sale was prepared by the council in March, 1920, but this list is also missing.

The general report of the town was very encouraging, particularly the water and light utilities, the former showing a gross revenue for the year 1925 of over $13,000; the latter around $7,000. The town's tax arrears amounted to some $33,000.

The chairman of the various departments of the council submitted reports, which were somewhat encouraging. Mr. Hays, as chairman of the Fire and Light department, recommended the securing of better quarters, in which to store the fire-fighting apparatus. During the year 1925, the firemen were called out on only four occasions, while none of the fires were of a very serious nature.

Various questions asked were answered satisfactorily.

Immediately following the town meeting, the secretary and members of the school board assumed the platform, when the ratepayers called upon Mr. Patterson to continue in office as chairman.

The secretary read reports from the auditor, the trustees, the principal and school inspectors for the year 1925, all of which were attentively listened to. Once again the chairman of the board attempted to read the Enterprise and accuse it of making false statements regarding the doings of the board, but found that little sympathy attended his attack.

The financial statement disclosed tax arrears in the neighborhood of $29,000.

The report of Inspector Brenner on the public school, and of Inspector Smith on the high school were read in full, despite the protest raised by the chairman of the school board, who claimed that these reports should not have been read. Mr. Patterson claimed, however, that the ratepayers had reason to believe that these reports contained information that was not altogether satisfactory and insisted that they be read at this meeting for the benefit of the ratepayers and parents. The report of the inspector of high schools showed conditions therein to be anything but satisfactory, going so far as to state that the principal was not qualified to fill the position he held and urging upon the board the necessity of employing qualified teachers for high school. With one or two exceptions, the reports on the various grade teachers were fairly satisfactory.

COLONIZING CAMPAIGN FOR SOUTHERN ALBERTA
At a conference representative of the whole of southern Alberta, "Settle the South" campaign was launched, looking to the prosecution of a vigorous campaign of land settlement in the next five years. A primary feature of the programme as outlined, will be the issuance of advertising telling of the advantages of southwestern Alberta. The confidence was called by the Lethbridge board of trade, and representatives from Taber to Pincher Creek and from Champlin to the boundary were present.

DEATH KIDS ALL

BURBANK AVERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—The San Francisco Bulletin in a copyrighted article today says that Luther Burbank, the famous horticulturist of Santa Rosa, Calif., has announced that he "is an infidel in the true sense of the word, that he does not believe in a personal resurrection and that science disproves popular theories of reincarnation and life after death."

In the article, Burbank says that "all religions of the past and probably all of the future, will sooner or later become petrified forms instead of living helps to mankind. As a scientist I can not help but feel that all religions are on a tottering foundation. None is perfect or inspired. As for the prophets, there are as many today as ever before, only science refuses to let them overstep the bounds of common sense."

"The idea that a good God would send people to a burning hell is utterly damnable to me. I don't want to have anything to do with such a God."

Touching on reincarnation the great plant scientist said:

"The universe is not big enough to contain perpetually all the human souls and the other living beings that have been here for their short span. A theory of personal resurrection or reincarnation of the individual is untenable when we but pause to consider the magnitude of the idea."

"On the contrary, I must believe that, rather than the survival of all, we must look for survival only in the spirit of the good we have done in passing through."

"Once obsolete, an automobile is thrown to the scrap heap. Once here and gone, the human life has likewise served its purpose. If it has been a good life, it has been sufficient. There is no need for another."

"The theory of reincarnation, which originated in India, has been welcomed in other countries. Without doubt it is one of the most sensible and satisfying of all of the religions that mankind has conceived. This like the others, comes from the best quality of human nature, even if it sometimes fails to carry out the principles in their lives."

"I do recognize the existence of a great universal power—a power which we can't even begin to comprehend and might as well not attempt to. It may be a conscious mind and it may not. I don't know. As a scientist I would like to know, but as a man I am not so vitally concerned."

"As for Christ—well, he has been most outrageously belied. His followers, like those of many scientific and literary men who produce no real thoughts of their own, have so garbled his words and conduct that many of them no longer apply to present life. He was an infidel of his day because he rebelled against the prevailing religion and government."

"I am a lover of Christ as a man and his works, and all things that help humanity, but, nevertheless, just as he was an infidel then, I am an infidel today. I do not believe what has been served me to believe. I am a doubter, a questioner, a skeptic. When it can be proved to me that there is immortality, that there is resurrection beyond the gates of death, then will I believe. Until then, no."

Burbank's statement was occasioned by a statement by Henry Ford in which the automobile manufacturer was quoted as expressing faith in the Theosophist theory of reincarnation. Ford and Burbank are close friends and follow each other's work closely.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 22.—Statements of Luther Burbank, said to have been caused by comment of Henry Ford, probably were based on a recent interview in a national magazine, persons closely in touch with Mr. Ford said tonight.

The motor manufacturer, it was said, recently outlined beliefs he has had for some time on life and religion.

Mr. Ford's belief, as expressed by a person closely in touch with him, is that we are put in this world to get an experience. His experiences, he believes, will aid us in the future because life does not begin here or end here.

Mr. Ford's belief is that what we call religion was once definitely and scientifically understood and will be so understood again when mankind has progressed far enough to regain what has been lost by the human race. He holds that what we now call faith is merely lost knowledge of how we came to be here and where the spirit goes after death.

It was made plain that Mr. Ford has never made any statement of belief in the theosophist theory as such in the theory of reincarnation, except as he believes that life goes on continually and that this earth may be just a clearing house among the great planets of the universe.

ONE IN A MILLION

"Are my biscuits light, John?" asked the charming young wife, as she smiled at her husband; and he—

With emphasis, says, "they are lovely, my life,

As light as the foam of the sea."

"Is the steak cooked to suit you?" she gently enquire;

And he says as he smilingly nods, "It might have been cooked at celestial fires,

And is tender enough for the Gods."

And the coffee, that suits you too, does it dear?"

She asks, overjoyed at his praise,

Which rather than strains of sweet music she'd hear;

"I never thank better," he says,

So she sits down beside him and with him partakes,

And the rigid no doubt will confess,

That if John tells her lies in the answers he makes;

He's a gentleman, nevertheless.

1925 AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION

Alberta's agricultural production for 1925 is valued at a total of $256,460,267, showing an increase of $10,617,997 over the total of $251,227,770 for 1924, according to figures just issued by the provincial department of agriculture. A large share of this increase for the past year is accounted for by the greater value of grain crops produced in the province in 1925.

The total value of grain crops grown in the province in 1925 is placed at $149,599,914 as compared with $106,699,146 in 1924. Dairy products show a slight decrease of from $23,208,000 in 1924 to $22,002,000 in 1925, a feature which invariably accompanies a year of exceptionally good grain crops.

The value of fodder and root crops in 1925 which is placed at $50,517,000, also shows a slight drop from the figure of $53,612,175 in 1924, owing to the greater amount of feed classed as green feed in the former year. Livestock and animal products show a very gratifying increase of from $31,912,000 in 1924 to $32,931,000 in 1925.

The agricultural industry of the province, it is emphasized by these figures, is in a steadily improving position, as not only has the volume of production in most lines been increased, but prices in practically all cases show an upward trend which is very encouraging.

A commercial traveller, visiting a large insurance office, boasted to the manager that he could pick out all the married men among the employees. Accordingly, he stationed himself at the door as they returned from dinner, and mentioned all those he believed to be married. In almost every case he was right.

"How do you do it?" asked the manager.

"The married men wipe their feet on the mat; the single men don't."

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, Alberta.
February 4, 1926.
Editor Blairmore Enterprise.

Dear Sir: Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to publish these few lines, because it is in the cause of justice being done to those pupils who were dealt with in our high school very unjustly.

The facts of the case are that on Thursday last five girls remained for a few minutes after school hours, evidently for a fixed purpose. Two of these were dancing, for which they were not censured. The other three were suspended for a week and a day for merely "moving a table."

Why should there be sides taken in school, because their parents have a grievance? Why not deal with all alike.

The trustees, after hearing the details at a special meeting of the board, decided to revoke the punishment on one day's suspension, as it was far too severe a punishment for the offence.

These girls have their way to make in the world, and for a black mark to be registered against their school record is a very serious thing, and as the offence, if any, is so very trivial, I think the whole thing should be erased.

Yours sincerely,
A PARENT.

Mayor McLeod returned yesterday from a visit to Spokane.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Henry Franz left on Saturday for Edmonton, where he will attend the school trustees' convention.

A good crowd turned out to the dance which was put on by the Melody Four here on Saturday night.

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Powell on Thursday night. New officers were elected, with Mrs. James Leigh president and Mrs. M. A. Murphy secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Bouthillier and Mrs. Hannan were elected first and second vice-presidents, respectively. A good crowd attended the meeting.

On Monday night the ladies of the vicinity gave a surprise party to Mrs. Ed. Grove, of Lundbreck, Mrs. James Leigh kindly giving her home for the occasion. Mrs. Grove has been in our midst since the came over from the mother country, meeting and marrying her husband here and rearing to young womanhood her talented daughter. Ever since Mrs. Grove came to our village, she has been invaluable to us as a pianist, always willing to help out on any and every occasion, after going through had weather and endangering her health to fulfil a promise. Words fail us when we try to thank her in the help she has given the children, acting as accompanist for recitals at different times and places, the Blairmore musical festival being the most worthy. She has played for the church, musical exams, concerts, whist drives, etc., always taking the same enthusiastic interest on all occasions. Her efforts to help out have been untiring, and we, as a token of appreciation, presented her with two Dutch-silver candle sticks, with candles.

Too Much Roaring!

"My friends," said a foreign preacher, who had not perfect power to use the English language, "my text this morning is: The Devil, he goeth round like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour." I shall consider this text under three heads: First—Who, the devil, he is; second—Why, the devil, he goeth around; third—What, the devil, he is roaring about!"

NEW KING'S PRINTER

Announcement has been made by Premier Brownlee, of the appointment of W. D. McLean, an official of the municipal affairs department, and a former printer and publisher, to the position of Acting King's Printer, vice J. W. Jeffery, whose resignation has now been officially accepted. Mr. McLean is taking charge of the King's Printer's branch at once.

Since November 19, when the re-organization of the King's Printer's branch was commenced, the charge of C. G. Groff, publicity commissioner. The possibility of amalgamating the publicity branch with that of the King's Printer, was considered by the members of the government, but in view of the prospective development of the publicity branch in connection with the return of the natural resources and the movement of immigration, it was finally decided that the amalgamation would not be advisable. It has been decided, however, that all government advertising will be concentrated and in future handled through the publicity branch.

Mr. McLean, the new Acting King's Printer, was brought up in the printing business. He learned the trade on the Huron Express at Seaford, Ontario, and later was engaged in printing in large job printing establishments in Toronto and Brantford. He then returned to Seaford, where he entered business with his father in a large printing establishment. Some years later he became proprietor of the Banner at Dundas, Ontario. In 1912 he came west to Edmonton to become a member of the staff of the Bulletin. A few years later he entered the service of the provincial government and has been an official of the department of municipal affairs ever since, latterly occupying a position of considerable responsibility. Mr. McLean has been a member of the executive of the civil service association, and was one of the first members of the joint council of the labour and association.

Jan. E. Richards, who has been connected with the King's Printer's department for many years, will be named Assistant King's Printer.

AN URGENT CASE

Among the humorous letters received at Washington during the war, was the following:

"Mr. Headquarters,
U. S. Army.

My husband was induced into the surface long months ago and I ain't received no pay from him since he was gone. Please send me my eloquent as I have a four month's old baby and he is my only support and I need it every day to buy food and keep us enclosed. I am a poor woman and all that I have is at the front. Both sides of my parents are very old and I can't suspect anything from them as my mother has been in bed thirteen years with one doctor and she won't take another. My husband is in charge of a spittoon. Do I get any more than I am going to get? Please send me a letter and tell me if my husband made application for a wife and child and please send me a wife form to fill out. I have already written Mr. Wilson and get no answer and if I don't hear from you I will write Uncle Sam about you and him.

Very truly,
MRS. PAUL QUINN.

"P.S.—My husband says he sees in the Y.M.C.A. every night with the piano playing in his uniform. I think you can find him there."—Kahlegan.

In every woman's life there are two periods when no man can understand her. The first is before she reaches the age of twenty, and the second is from twenty onwards.

First Lady—"We just got in a $100 radio set and Lorraine came in and attached it."

Second Lady—"That's nothing. We got a $500 one and Sheriff McDonald came in and attached it."

Here and There

William Edgerton, a farmer at Taber, Alberta, is glad he went to the west. He received a $1000 return from taxes and one-half acre of land.

Winter sport activities at old Quebec are in full swing. This is considered the most brilliant source of entertainment for years past. Hundreds of sport enthusiasts and tourists from the New England states, Canada, and other parts of the continent are turning up in force at the Ancient Capital.

Miss Isabel Coulter, only nineteen years of age, is the world's women champion ski jumper. She created a world record at Banff, B.C., at the age of sixteen in 1923. This winter, taking part in the winter sports at Quebec, Miss Coulter made a jump of 83 feet in the international-intercollegiate ski contest.

A report from Smiths Falls, Ontario, is to the effect that a train was stopped in order to avoid a collision with an automobile making for the tracks over a crossing. The train was stationary when the automobile struck one of the cars. The occupants of the automobile escaped uninjured.

Tourists on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland were at the famous King Solomon quarries, beneath the walls of Jerusalem, on Christmas night. Many of them, according to a cable received at C.P.R. head office, bought gewgaws made from the stone of the quarries, with olive wood handles.

According to information at the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway, holiday passenger traffic this year from points west was the heaviest since 1920 in the past few weeks and represented a fifty per cent increase over the amount handled over Canadian Pacific Railway lines last year. Special arrangements made to take care of the Christmas and New Year rush worked efficiently.

With Canadian ensign flying and all her gale bunting aloft, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland left the harbor of New York sharp at noon on December 3 on the first part of her journey in the course of which she will completely circumnavigate the globe, covering approximately 20,000 miles, visiting sixteen different countries and making twenty-four ports of call.

Canadian Pacific Railway gross earnings for the month of October were $19,569,198.43 an increase of $216,847.93 over the sum for the corresponding period of 1924. Net profits were $7,444,027.08 or an increase of $21,849.35 over $7,022,177.73 for October 1924. Net profits for the ten months ending October 31 were $29,979,940.01 an increase of $1,611,889.52 over the sum of $27,468,059.49 for the same period of 1924.

According to advice from a reliable source, conditions in the West have shown consistent improvement this year. The crop has been gathered, threshing is finished, and the grain has been stored in elevators. With the astonishingly rapid dispatch of wheat, money is steadily coming in to farmers, giving them an opportunity to clear off debts and leaving them enough to extend their purchases.

"LAZYBONES" GOATS

EAT PROF FLOWERS

A pair of goats played tag with the technical men every morning during the making of the William Fox screen version of "Lazybones" at Kernville, California.

It became necessary to turn a tumble-down cottage into a delightful rose-covered affair and to do this, a few "prop" flowers had to be utilized. It didn't take the nimble-footed, tin-can-loving goats, that lived nearby, long to learn about this and every morning they dined happily on the crisp cloth flowers attached to the vines. The goats would jump the fence and scamper away to safety when they saw the technical men approaching. All of which explains why so many "props" were left behind on location and accounted for as "missing." "Lazybones" will be shown at the Orpheum Theatre, Blairmore, on Saturday, with matinee in the afternoon.

Fathers and Sons

From other contemplation of abstract phases of life, or the dim and hazy of ordinary affairs, it is refreshing to turn to an occasion of robust, red-blooded companionship, such as is called forth by the association of fathers and sons to the annual observance of Father and Son Week.

There is much philosophy in the Brotherhood of Man, much dogmatism in the fatherhood of God, but all is meaningless without a proper appreciation of the vital relationship between the individual father and the individual son.

No more congenial field for development can be given a boy in which he may discover the true relationship which should exist in life than in the atmosphere of an understanding father's influence. And what matters of vast import in a very few years' time depend on the impressions obtained in early youth!

A long stride has been made from the days when the old woodshed interview was about the only occasion on which a father became intimate with his son and summed up the then acknowledged position of the father as judge and disciplinarian, and that only, with scarce a thought more devoted to the boy's welfare than to see he was home when required and out of sight the rest of the time. We are thankful that today we can point to the fellowship of father and son in contacts ranging throughout all the family activities, in many interests of the community and reaching out to things Provincial and even Dominion-wide.

To what may we attribute this change? In a large measure it is due to a keener appreciation of all the aptness and truth of the poet's statement that "the boy is father to the man." The fathers realize it in the wisest passage of time, daily shaping the opportunities for them to prepare and inspire the lads to greater things than they themselves have done and to the urgency of fulfilling their privileged duty of leading out their boys toward a truer sense of values.

The sons recognize it in the urge to look beyond the present to that dim time which forever beckons to youth—the time of the realization of their powers and possibilities. And the pangs of his not long to be delayed responsibility throw him back to glean hurriedly those truths which companionship with a mature mind might give him. And in the impact of this seeking for the boat in which the father meets the son not merely as a progenitor, but as the sympathetic counsellor and guide, and the son realizes he is not only the male offspring of this man but is of the fibre of his very heart and soul and holds at his disposal the best of which the father is capable.

So, with the thought of him, need, the place and purpose of this high relationship between Father and Son, the C.B.E.T. movement has made a very definite place for its development. During the month of February a week is set aside in which to foster the fellowship of Fathers and Sons. To many fathers this time is a time of real reconciliation to the biggest job of their lives—that of upbuilding and outgrowing the life of a boy, and to the boys comes a realization that though often preoccupied with business matters, Father has their best interests at heart, and a renewed trust is awakened and strengthened in the vitality of all the relationships of the home, and this finds expression in the more faithful performances of their obligations to the home.

Not only are home relationships emphasized, but also Christian fellowship in the Church. That line in Longfellow depicting the village blacksmith going on Sunday to Church and sitting amongst his boys, carries a punch in the heart that delivered by the mother's, father's, and brother's hands on the red hot metal of the anvil. It is the unanswerable argument with those who would have you "do as I say, not do as I do."

Not only are public opportunities provided for in Church service and banquet for expression and development between Fathers and Sons, but encouragement is given to the more personal and private interchange of thoughts and ideas by means of hikes and home nights. These are golden grounds affording priceless opportunities to each participant to make his contribution to that happy estate of perfect understanding between both.

Much might be said of the details of the programme of activities during Father and Son Week. Suffice it to say that, while emphasis is laid on reconciliation of Fatherhood and Sonship and all they involve during the short period of one week, this is to be taken only as an indication of the necessity and worthwhileness of an understanding between Fathers and Sons based on sympathetic fellowship with deep respect to each other the whole year round, and from this achievement of the soul will flow out a real spirit of brotherhood, embracing the height, breadth and depth of all human relationships, breathing good-will to man and honor to man's Maker.

Manitoba Winter

The first trial for the Manitoba Winter Food Competition, which is staged for March 15, 1932, is now open. The Dominion Food Service, which is the sponsor of the competition, has announced that the first prize will be a $1000 cash prize, and a $500 cash prize for the runner-up. The competition is open to all residents of Manitoba, and the entries will be accepted until March 15, 1932.

Another feature of the show will be the changed regulations in regard to the Dominion livestock branch prizes for groups of five draft horses, which have been made with a view to bringing out a larger class than hitherto. The exhibitors may exhibit in a group. The chief change is that this group no longer calls for five of one breed. The variations in age and rising three to rising eight days from the first of January of the current year. Entries are confined to bona fide farmers.

In passing, these regulations in regard to prizes for commercial horses apply to the winter and spring shows of Alberta and Saskatchewan as well as Manitoba.

ANEMIA SHOWS IN VARYING SYMPTOMS

Pains and Aches Disappear When the Blood is Built Up

When the blood is this way, the body suffers. Lack of vitality, shows in listlessness, nervousness and headaches as well as loss of color and strength. Many symptoms develop which to the patient suggest widely different diseases and cause much needless apprehension. Quickeness with which a supply of rich red blood will drive away all these pains and aches is shown by the result of treatment with such a reliable blood-building tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of this medicine is fully proved by the experience of Miss Alice Sandberg, Oregon, Santa Clara county, who writes: "I can speak with the highest praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for to this medicine I owe my present good health. Last winter I became rundown, was pale and sickly looking, my back ached and I had severe pains in the stomach. At times my head ached and I would feel dizzy. I tried various medicines but they did not help me. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I can scarcely say how glad I am that I acted on this advice. I had not been taking the pills very long when I felt a change for the better. Day by day I became stronger. The headaches, backaches, stomach troubles and dizziness disappeared, and I was again enjoying good health. You may be sure I shall ever have a good word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Manitoba Wheat Pool

Three Directors Issue Statement in Connection With Elevator Policy

Wheat Pool, W. G. Weir, C. S. Stevenson and A. J. M. Pools issued a statement in connection with a statement of elevator policy recently made by Colin H. Burnell, president of the pool, and published in the Free Press of Jan. 13. The statement in part is as follows:

"The Free Press of Jan. 13 contained a statement from Mr. Burnell carrying the heading, 'Pool Will Argue To Acquire Elevators.'"

"This statement was issued without consultation with the board of directors of the Manitoba pool, and without authority from them."

"As three members of the Manitoba pool board, our efforts for over two months have been directed to attempting to get the boards of the pool and the U.C.O. together to discuss frankly any differences of opinion that may exist."

"We believe more can be done in this way than by the boards staying apart and each in their own meagles, evading plans to put up to the other."

It testifies for itself—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil needs no testimonial of its power to relieve the most distressing of all ailments. Who ever tries it for coughs or colds, for catarrhs or constipation, for sprains or rheumatism, for neuralgia or headache, will know that the medicine proves itself and needs no guarantee. This shows why this Oil is in general use.

Canadian Banks In Better Position To Serve Public

One of the most complete and authoritative statements ever submitted regarding the Canadian banking system and the present banking situation made by C. E. Nell, General Manager of The Royal Bank of Canada, at the annual meeting, Mr. Nell said in part:

"The amalgamation, the number of banks in Canada has been slowly reduced until the present situation is analogous to the condition existing in Great Britain, where the great bulk of the banking assets of the country is in the hands of the two large banks. There have been expressed that the concentration of banking power in the hands of two banks is a disadvantage. It may lead to bad results, such as a single point of competition or neglect of local interests. The feeling in regard to competition seems to have had its inception in the fear of what may happen in the future, rather than as a result of developments to date, for no one can say that the competition between banks is less severe than it has been in the past. We believe that the contrary is the case, and that a large proportion of the savings affected through amalgamations have been passed on to the public in the form of increased service and relatively lower charges."

The merits of branch banking as compared with system of unit banks are a subject of debate in the United States today, and opponents of branch banking are endeavoring to attract local interests of having their banking business in the hands of local institutions. It is claimed to be more intimately in touch with conditions at the points concerned. For Canada, however, the arguments in favor of branch banking are strong.

And they are sure to find it a most valuable remedy.

Help For Asthma. Neglect gives asthma a bad name. The trouble, once it has secured a foothold, fastens its grip on the bronchial passages long after the attack has passed. Let's have a little heart-to-heart talk about our tailoring. When you pay a goodly amount for a suit made to your measure, you want it to fit perfectly. And you want cloth that is pure wool and durable, workmanship that looks after details, style that's faultless. These things—and more—you'll get at this shop. We're the "fussy" man's tailor.

We would suggest, however, that for council they could do no better than return for another term Messrs. Gillis, Ferguson and Montalbeti, in order that the investigation now under way should be completed and matters cleaned up.
